

City, county at odds over sewer rates

By GARY SCHNEIDER,
of the Press-Record

An accusation that Granite City officials are the only ones keeping the new sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships from being used immediately was protested by city officials Friday, who said the main problem keeping the sewers from being used is that the Madison County Special Sewer Committee wants township residents to pay less for sewage treatment than residents of Granite City are paying. Despite a general understanding that Granite City is willing to rescind an ordinance calling for a $10 per month surcharge on treatment plant users who reside outside of the city limits, county sewer committee members at a meeting last week charged that Granite City is solely responsible for holding up the use of the new sewers. Committee Chairman Louis

Whitsell reported some areas could be using the new sewers in Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships immediately, if Granite City would agree to accept the recommendation of an accounting firm that county residents pay $10.50 per quarter (each three months) for sewage treatment and retirement of the bonds for the sewage treatment plant. Granite City's city engineer, Monroe Brewer, contended the figure is "ridiculously low," since Granite City residents are paying $13 per quarter. "What they want to do is add all of their sewage together and then get the wholesale rate for treatment, as though they were a large industrial user. They want to pay about 45 cents for treatment of each 100 cubic yards of sludge while Granite City residents are paying about 62 cents. "What we are suggesting is that the county residents pay the same

$13 per quarter as the city residents, and then pay $5 per quarter for about five years, to repay their fair share of the money city residents have paid on the bonds issued to build the treatment plant and secondary treatment plant. "Their total then would be $18 a quarter. The county promised people they would pay about $10 a month and they still could. That would be $30 a quarter, of which we would get $18 and they would have

$12 per quarter per household to run the sewer district and maintain the sewers," Brewer contended. He said that would leave the county sewer district $9,004 per quarter, or $9,756 per month, for maintenance of the sewers and operating the sewer district. The sewer committee had suggested that each of the 3,352 estimated users of the new sewers pay $10 per month. Of that, $5 would

Cheering crowd we comes champs

By PETE HAYES

Hundreds of screaming fans braved near-freezing weather here Sunday to greet the returning champions—the Granite City South soccer team. Granite City South won its fifth straight state championship Saturday night in Palatine with a convincing 5-1 victory over Darien (Hinsdale South) in the championship game. The Warriors also downed Chicago Bowen 2-1 Saturday afternoon on penalty kicks in one of the most exciting state tournament semifinal games ever played.

The state championship by South means that the Warriors could lay claim to the Midwest prep championship—if there was such a thing. South beat Vianney (the team that won the Missouri state championship Saturday) 1-0 in the St. Louis C.Y.C. Tournament. The Warriors also defeated Evansville Reitz Memorial its only defeat this season. Reitz won its second Indiana state championship last week. South also became the first team from Illinois to ever win the prestigious C.Y.C. Tournament.

The South team and coaching staff made the long trip home from Palatine, a north-side suburb of Chicago, and arrived home to a caravan down Madison Ave. (complete with police and fire department escorts) to a victory rally at the South Memorial Gym at 4 p.m. yesterday.

The members of the South squad and the coaches were introduced to the crowd of happy fans that packed into the gym bleachers to greet the Warriors and get their first glimpse at the latest addition to the soccer team's already crowded trophy case... the 1980 IHSA championship trophy.

The graduating seniors spoke to the crowd. When David Fernandez, the All-American and All-State who has been an integral part of South's success the past four seasons was introduced, he received a standing ovation. "He's without a doubt the best player I've ever coached," said Baker. "I don't mean to put down any other players. I hope there are no hurt feelings about it when I say that."

"But God gave David a gift. And God and (David's) parents gave one to me. I hope some coach, whether it be in the college ranks or in the pros, gets a chance to enjoy coaching this young man as I have," he said, his voice at times choked with emotion.

Fernandez was one of many heroes in the Warriors' march to the top spot in the state. He scored eight goals in the post-season and was the central figure in every game.

But there were others. "We couldn't have gotten as far as we have without every single player on this team," Baker told the crowd. "At one time or another, each one has made a contribution."

Baker continued, "I don't know if this team is the best of the five (state champions). But this team was able to do different things. Each team we've had has been able to do something different."

Baker introduced volunteer assistant coaches Mary Mascoe and Charlie Bennington, two former South players who went on to the college ranks. "These two gentlemen have donated many hours for no pay. Their contribution has been great."

Then Baker introduced assistant coach Mel Bunting. "I've been with me ever since I came to Granite City and he's been a great coach for our junior varsity level. He and I work together well. He's the best assistant coach anyone could ask for."

Then it was the seniors' time to address the crowd.

ROBBIE MANN, who created controversy when, after gaining all-state honors last season at Collinsville, he transferred to South when his parents moved over the summer. "This season has been hard," he said to the gathering. "There's been a lot of pressure. But gosh, it paid off!"

DON COOK, who scored two goals in Saturday night's championship game. "I'd like to thank Coach Baker and Bunting and Marc and Charlie... and all the people who came out and supported us all year long."

JIM BREWER, who Baker calls the "best center back in Illinois." "Thanks, coach (Baker). But most of all, thanks to the fans. We've got the best team in the state and we've got the best fans in the state."

JOHN RUSHING, who contributed an assist in the championship game and has risen to be one of the top players off the bench this season. "I want to thank everybody who drove all the way up (to Palatine) to see the games. They were like home games for us."

ERIC WALTENBERGER, the 6'3" forward, who went out for soccer only this season and played well enough to win several college scouts. "It was my first tournament, and I was kind of scared. I want to thank coach Baker. Any college scouts who were asking about me—it was because of him."

TIM DIX, the scrappy player who usually got the credit for marking the opposition's toughest player (and usually came out to top). "We've got the greatest coaches, fans and players. Thanks."

LOYD SHARP, who went from spot-starter to full-time starter and was one of several unsung heroes. "I want to thank Coach Bunting and Coach Baker for all this... and the fans, too."

FERNANDEZ, whose accomplishments as a player for South are too numerous to mention. Suffice to say he will go down as the best to ever play the game in Granite City. "It's been an honor for me to be able to play on four straight state champions out of the five under the finest coach in the world, Coach Baker."

Also addressing the group were South High Principal James Dumont and District 9 Superintendents of Schools B. J. Davis. More details of the State Finals are in today's sports section.

Rare 'linkage' grant here for business, education, labor

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Coordinated Youth Services of Granite City has been awarded a $18,250 grant to conduct a "Linkages in Progress" pilot program to implement and evaluate an alternative training service for CETA-eligible youth. It is announced this week by C. A. "Bud" McMillan Jr., CYS executive director.

Area business firms, labor organizations and school administrators have volunteered "their wholehearted cooperation" to help create a basic foundation for the new pilot program and ensure its success, McMillan stated.

Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. Briggs said Madison County has been selected as one of 10 areas throughout the nation to conduct this special program and "has the opportunity to develop linkage models worthy of national recognition."

The Educational Service Region and the Madison County Office of Manpower Development are co-sponsoring the "Linkages" project, with the assistance from the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission (SIMAP) and Consortium of Vocational Educators and Employers (COVEE).

The "Linkages" concept will test the feasibility of developing positive attitudes toward work and education, involving participants who previously have not been able to adjust to a typical educational setting, McMillan explained.

"In-kind" services will account for an additional $20,000 to the basic grant, which covers a period through July 1981.

Directing the project is Shirley Blasigame, a Granite City resident and a former teacher at Maryville and Wilson schools.

Mrs. Blasigame has served as an instructor in the Alternative School Center, located at the CYS Building, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., for the last two years.

The new project director is a keen advocate of the individualized program offered at the center, which "enables one to develop a closeness with the youngsters." She said most of the young people attending are "very responsive and very caring."

The "Linkages" program provides a unique opportunity to attain new levels of collaboration and cooperation between the vocational education programs and the CETA manpower training system in Madison County. Supt. Briggs and Daniel D. Churovich, OMD director, said.

Designed to build upon already existing accomplishments between high school vocational education and the CETA education training systems, the principal goals of the new program are:

To strengthen coordination and collaboration between the two systems by pooling and furthering existing resources; to develop expanded inter-system collaboration and coordination among education-training systems and related youth service agencies and community interest groups and to develop a mechanism that links the needs of area employers with education and training programs.

The program's overall goal is to promote education, vocational training and employment systems for

New system saves funds for city

By PAT FOLEY
of the Press-Record

A new system being used at the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant to dewater waste sludge is already saving the city money in more ways than one.

The new system, which uses liquid polymer in place of lime and ferric chloride, has already cut the materials cost by more than half and a considerable savings of shipping costs also is being realized, according to Terry McMillan, superintendent of the plant. "Instead of buying the old chemicals by the barrel, we now purchase the liquid polymer in bulk form which saves us (the city) about $800 for each shipment."

"That's between $5,000 and $6,000 each year at our present rate of a shipment every five to six weeks," McMillan said.

The liquid polymer costs $111 per pound and there are eight and one-half pounds per gallon. With the use of two new storage tanks each with a capacity of 750 gallons, the plant now receives 1,300 gallons of bulk polymer per shipment.

The new system involves an investment of $8,000 which should pay for itself in a year. In addition to the two storage tanks, an apparatus which

New home sewers must meet specifications

Madison County special sewer district superintendent, Gene Futch, is recommending that persons who plan to install new home sewers to connect with the new Madison County sanitary sewers through Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, follow the specifications for their materials carefully, or risk having the home sewer disapproved for layon.

Futch said persons purchasing their own plastic pipe should ask for six-inch PVC pipe with elastomeric seals, SRD (dimension ratio) 35 or better.

Joints should be ASTM D 3212, rubber seal, with standard specifications for sewer joints using elastomeric seals.

Futch is recommending that the bed for the pipe contain two inches of rock under the pipe and halfway up its sides, using a three-eight inch minimum rock size.

At least a six-inch drop in each 100 feet of pipe is recommended.

Contractors or persons wishing to view the complete ordinance regulating the installation of home sewers may contact Futch or Paul Bennett, foreman, at 931-3400 or 931-3401, or may obtain copies from the Madison County clerk's office in the county courthouse at Edwardsville, Futch said.

Futch or Bennett also may be contacted to determine the locations of "T" connections where the tap-ons will be made.

Where there was no "T" connector installed, such as where new houses have been constructed, the county will have saddles available to serve as connectors, Futch said.

Two Injured on Nameoki Road

When a green auto emerged from the Crossroads Plaza shopping center onto Nameoki Road during rain at 4:15 p.m. Friday, two southbound cars halted in time but a third southbound auto skidded, causing a chain-reaction crash.

There was damage to the front of the car of Norman Paul Hoosier, 16, of 2905 Boston Place, the rear and front of the auto of Kristy Huckleberry, 410 Kirkpatrick Homes, and the rear of the car of Richard Embrey, South Roxana.

Hoosier was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with neck and abdominal injuries.

Also taken by ambulance for hospital care was Nannie B. Howard, 73, of 4281 Breckenridge lane, a passenger in the Huckleberry auto who was thrown against the windshield. She was released after treatment and X-rays.

Police stop fight

A fight involving numerous persons in the 4000 block of Kirkpatrick Homes was broken up by Granite City police at 10:50 p.m. Thursday and officers were told that one of the youths who fled when police arrived had displayed a shotgun.

Charles Tindall told police a group of about eight youths jumped on him for no apparent reason and beat him. Two other men came to Tindall's help before police arrived.

Tindall was struck above his right eye with an object and sustained a small cut. The windshield to his car, parked nearby, also was smashed during the disturbance, he pointed out.

GC woman is chased by car, rescued

Madison County sheriff deputies rescued a 23-year-old Granite City woman at 2:20 a.m. Saturday from a harrowing incident in which she was chased from the Washington Park area by three men in an auto who tried several times to force her car off the road.

Noticing one of the efforts to force her vehicle off Illinois Route 111 at Cahokia Creek, deputies intervened and learned from her what had happened.

When the other car sped north on 111, deputies chased it at high speed. After it turned onto Sand Prairie Lane, the fleeing vehicle halted in a ditch and the trio of occupants ran.

A search by canine-assisted officers failed to locate the three men.

Towed to a Pontoon Beach garage, the auto located in the ditch was found to have been reported as stolen in St. Louis.

Man, 84, struck by motorcycle

John Winklmier, 84, of 2147 Lee Ave. was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at noon Friday after being struck by the motorcycle of Howard Hankins, 34, of 2311 Delmar Ave.

The pedestrian sustained abrasions to the left forearm and left knee. He was released after treatment.

He was walking west onto Edison Avenue from an area in front of a parked pickup, 40 feet north of 20th Street. Hankins, who was charged with violating a driver license classification, had been riding west on 20th and turned north onto Edison. When he attempted to stop the motorcycle to avoid the pedestrian, it slid sideways on wet pavement.

AUTO STRIKES SIGN

John L. Kibbons, 45, of 2905 Roosevelt Ave. was charged with driving while his license was suspended at 2:05 a.m. Saturday after the front of his westbound auto had struck a fire department sign on the shoulder of Rock Road 75 feet east of Roosevelt, near the West Granite fire station.

Recycling of iron, steel discards urged

The scrap metal industry is launching a major drive to spur increased use of scrap iron and steel in the steel manufacturing process.

"If the nation is serious about recycling and saving energy, then it's time that industry, the consumer and government start working together to make the best possible use of all our resources," says Morton B. Plant, president of the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel.

Plant said the scrap metal industry will take the lead in a new effort to convince scrap users — steel companies and foundries — that recovered iron and steel is a bargain, with prices dropping recently to 40 percent of their level of six years ago. (The steel composite price went up by 80 percent during the same period.)

"Even if scrap prices return to their 1974 levels or exceed them, scrap is still a bargain. If you consider inflation, prices today are less than they were 25 years ago," Plant said.

In addition to the industry's efforts to convince steelmakers of price advantages, the scrap institute also plans to demonstrate to consumers the savings in energy and environmental costs.

The institute's program will try to dramatize such facts as these:

—When 1,000 tons of steel are made with scrap instead of ore, the energy saved is equivalent to 140,000 gallons of gasoline.

—Each ton of scrap used in making new iron and steel also saves one and a half tons of iron ore and one-third of a ton of coal. During the past 60 years, scrap industry shipments to U.S. steel mills and foundries conserved 2.6 billion tons of iron ore and nearly 600 million tons of coal, both finite resources.

—The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has found that use of scrap iron and steel instead of ore in the steelmaking process reduces air pollution effluents by 86 percent, and causes a 40 percent reduction in water use and 76 percent drop in water pollution.

Plant said another major aspect of the scrap industry's efforts will be to work against governmental policies that hinder use of scrap iron and steel.

She singles out, as an example, a decision earlier this year by the Department of Energy that "failed to develop a realistic recycling target" for the iron and steel industries.

At a time when we desperately need to recycle and save energy, the government's industrial energy conservation program proposed an iron and steel recycling target one percentage point lower in 1987 than it is today," Plant said.

"The steel industry's current scrap use rate is 42 percent and a one percentage point decrease in recycling over the next seven years is obviously not a goal, but a mockery of the law. The department's action fails to follow Congress' instructions for maximum feasible increase in use of recovered material."

Other blocks to better use of scrap iron and steel include rail shipment rates, lack of tax incentives for ferrous scrap recovery use, and efforts to restrict exports of excess U.S. scrap, Plant contended.

He said it costs an estimated average of three times as much to ship scrap iron by rail as it costs to ship iron ore.

Tax depletion benefits, he said, are available to producers of iron ore, but none exist for those steel mills and foundries that recycle metallic scrap. The tax policy is discriminatory, Plant said, and "encourage mining irreplaceable natural resources while discouraging true conservation efforts."

He concluded that scrap which cannot be sold rusts and goes to waste.

Confirm western line for I-270

The Illinois Department of Transportation has issued its final environmental impact statement on I-270 (Interstate) Route 270 from Collinsville to SIUE. It confirms the previous recommendation that the western alignment be selected. This calls for 5.5 miles of construction costing $78.8 million at 1980 prices, 1.7 miles of Southwest Connector costing $5.8 million and an improved interchange of Route 157 and I-870 (now known as 270), which will be the SIUE entrance from the new interstate. This will cost $5.2 million.

The extension will run north from the I-70 cloverleaf to be built where the weigh stations are now. It will cross Black Lane a short distance south of State Aid Route 35. A half-cloverleaf on the north side of SA 35 will allow access from Granite City. The interstate will run north to the Cahokia Canal, along the canal opposite Arlington Golf Course, swing northwest to cross it north of the golf course. A half-cloverleaf on the south side of Route 162 will allow access from that east-west road. The interstate will go into a major cloverleaf at I-870, which reverts to I-270 to head west to Chain of Rocks Bridge.

Right-of-way acquisition will require the purchase of approximately 488 acres of land. This includes some 388 acres of farmland currently used for crops and 49 acres of woodland. Approximately 50 acres are considered "prime," of which 50 acres are currently being farmed.

Five residences and one business establishment would be displaced by the proposed facility. (Not many new highways in metropolitan areas displace so few people.)

The project would use 3,850,000 gallons of petroleum for construction while an annual saving of about 1,340,000 gallons of petroleum would be obtained from elimination of stop and go driving when the job is done.

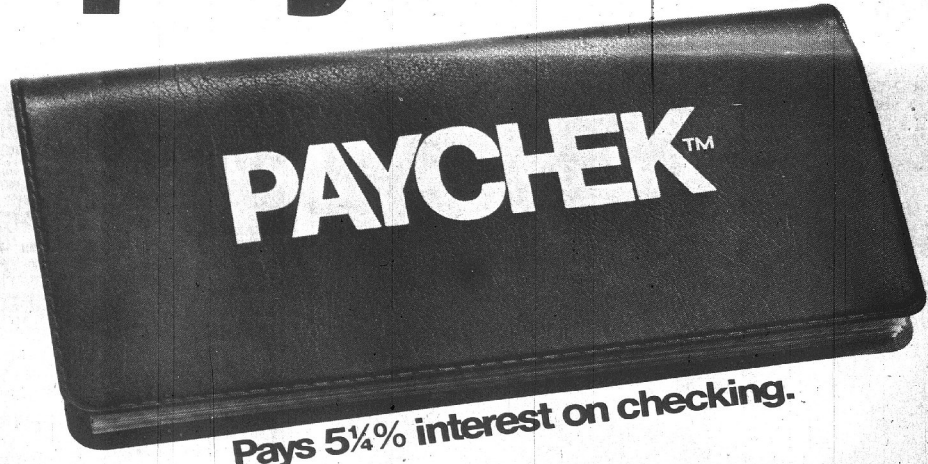

The impact statement says the project would have no impact upon any historical or archeological sites of local, state, or national significance, nor would there be any significant noise or air pollution impacts resulting from the construction of the proposed facility.

State Aid 35 would not affect the Collinsville Soccer Association's fields, which would be a bit to the east of it.

Rejected in the statement are the alternatives of improving existing Illinois Routes 157 and 117-40 to meet anticipated future demand, building a limited, rather than a fully controlled access facility, and mass transit. In the sparsely settled area, mass transit did not appear to offer much relief from overcrowding on 157 and 117.

Chauvinism being misused

By GARRY N. MURPHY
SIUE Department of English

The word "chauvinism" has fallen upon hard times. Take, for example, this use of one of its forms in a letter from a woman to Ann Landers: "Why all the hallelujah about a wife who undresses in a closet? You are amazingly chauvinistic to suggest that a wife put on a negligee striptease act for her husband."

"Chauvinism" is a French coinage based on the name of Nicolas Chauvin, an officer in Napoleon's army.

Chauvin was notorious for his blind devotion to all things Napoleonic. Hence, "chauvinism" originally meant mindlessly zealous patriotism — "My country, always right, never wrong."

During the 1960s and thereafter, women's liberation proponents gave the word a new twist, extending its denotation to include things other than nationality, with the result that dictionaries now offer a second definition:

"Unreasoning devotion to one's race, sex, etc., with contempt for other races, the opposite sex, etc. (male chauvinism)."

While that definition implies a wide latitude of reference, I don't recall ever seeing it used outside a sexual context, not "white" chauvinism or "black" chauvinism. And the women's liberation writers were always careful to specify "male" chauvinism.

The letter-writer, however, omits the all-important modifier, thus leaving us uncertain as to whether a striptease is male chauvinism, female chauvinism, or an act of super-patriotism. "Sexist" is a better word.

City, county

go to Granite City for treatment and the other $3 would be used by the county for maintaining the sewers and operating the sewer district.

On a quarterly basis, then, the committee is recommending that each home in the county pay $15 for treatment and bond retirement while the city is asking for $18.

With the two sides only about $3 a month apart, many township residents are hopeful that the situation can be resolved soon and sewer tap-ons can begin before severe weather sets in.

Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has agreed to lend his support to settling the impasse. Hagnauer promised Louis Whitsell, chairman of the sewer committee, that he will call a meeting with Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City to try and reach a compromise.

According to Terrance McMillan, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, the main difference holding up the negotiations is the period of time in which the county residents should repay their fair share of the money the city residents already have spent on principal and interest on the bonds for the giant treatment plant.

A study done by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., auditing firm for the county sewer committee agrees that the county users need to repay $339,870, or 12.89 percent of the total that city residents already have paid on the bonds.

However, the Peat, Marwick, Mitchell study suggests that the money be repaid over the remaining 13-year life of the bonds. City officials feel five years is more reasonable.

"We were to have taken a certain percentage of all the money we collect and put it into a depreciation reserve account, in case something of great magnitude has to be replaced. We have not done that," Brewer said.

McMillan agreed, saying, "What we have done is to use that money to pay the portion of the bonds which should have been paid all along by the county users. We would like to get that money back in a reasonable amount of time and put it into that reserve account. The amount they owe is almost identical to the amount which should have been put into that account all along."

"We need a new roof on a portion of the plant which is 15 years old. Instead of being able to take the money from the depreciation account, it will have to come from our operating funds, and that's not the way the system is supposed to function," McMillan added. Sewer committee members last week charged that the treatment rates were set by a 1972 contract between the city and the county and the city is refusing to honor the contract.

McMillan said several things made that contract "null and void." One was a provision that the county sewers had to be operating within three years, which would have been 1975. Due, in part, to a lengthy lawsuit attempting to halt the sewer construction, they were not.

Another provision in the original contract was that the contract was based upon the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) funding 80 percent of the construction cost of the treatment plant. Instead, the EPA grant was for 75 percent, nullifying the figures in the contract, McMillan said.

"There were other conditions in the contract which were not met, but these are the two big ones. That contract was never in effect and was never intended to apply in 1980," he added.

He said there also are some problems with the Peat, Marwick, Mitchell study, which suggested that the total treatment charge to residential customers using the new sewers should be $10.50, including a user charge of $8.49 and a payment to the city of $2.01 to repay city taxpayers for "recovery of past debt," on the bonds over a 13 year period.

McMillan contends, "What that study does not even take into account is that there are expenses to our operation which were not shown in the operating funds they studied. More than $100,000 a year comes from city funds. Some of these expenses include preparing payrolls, employee retirement funds, the city engineer's time spent on sewer matters, the treasurer's city clerk and other unaccounted overhead charges, which the city could rightfully charge our department."

"If we used the Peat, Marwick, Mitchell figures, the city residents would be paying for all of these services for the county residents," the treatment plant superintendent said.

Sewer committee members were told last week that the city has an obligation to open the plant to the county, since grant funds used to build the facility were given on the understanding the plant would serve both the city and a portion of the county.

"That (the treatment plant) is not Granite City's property. That's still the EPA's. It's a regional plant paid for by taxes," Whitsell contented at the meeting. He said EPA officials have been contacted about the impasse, but stated, "We didn't have any choice in the matter. The EPA told us that's where we treat our sewage. Now, the EPA says that (disagreement on treatment fees) is a local matter and we should settle it ourselves."

He said he feels the committee should avoid taking the issue to court, because litigation could keep the sewers from being used for several years. However, he warned, "I certainly feel they have to honor the (1972) contract and we are considering a lawsuit."

He added, "I hope Mr. Hagnauer can carry some weight with them. We should try and work it out, rather than go into court."

McMillan and Brewer said they were surprised by the strong criticism issued by Whitsell, since it seemed good progress was made in the last negotiating session, attended by four county sewer representatives and four city representatives, including McMillan and Brewer.

"The intent was expressed at the last meeting that Granite city is willing to rescind the ordinance calling for a $10 surcharge and I thought everyone at the meeting understood that," McMillan said. It also thought it was generally understood that the $5 per month charge for debt repayment on the bonds would be removed, as soon as the county users had repaid the debt, which would be less than five years, if the number of users in the special sewer area grows.

He said that other than speeding up the bond repayment schedule from 13 years to five years and increasing the monthly treatment rate so county users pay the same as city users, $13 per quarter, there seemed to be general agreement at the meeting on both sides on an agreement.

Whitsell's statement to the sewer committee seems to hint that the two sides are not that close. He summarized the meeting by saying, "The city officials came out with another figure, scratched out on paper, and we asked them to put it into a written proposal. They haven't done it yet."

"It was quite high and I don't think we could agree to it, but it's negotiable," Whitsell told the committee.

the ultimate benefit of area youth and the economic health of the community," Briggs said.

The term "linkages" is defined as connecting separate systems to promote coordination and increase joint effectiveness.

The type, design and implementation of the linkage will be developed by the people who work within the systems. Consequently, what will be accomplished will be based on a consensus of what is needed and feasible, McMillan said.

To achieve these goals, mutual support and assistance from all interested sectors is vital and a Joint Advisory Committee has been established.

Representatives from high school and community college vocational programs, CETA's administrative staff, area employers, youth service and community interest groups will participate on the committee, it was learned.

The committee will serve as a core group for information and resource sharing and will define and agree on the types of expanded efforts possible within Madison County, thereby "linking" communication and training resources, McMillan explained.

Training sessions will be held at local business sites, with groups of four participants and an instructor providing the basis for the 180-hour skills development program.

Training sites range from Illinois Power Company and St. Elizabeth Medical Center to Granite City Steel, The Nestle Co., and the Press-Record.

Rare 'linkage'

A list of cooperating business firms appears later in the article.

A total of 40 CETA-eligible youths will take part in the pilot program for an 18-week period.

Successful participation will enable the students to receive credit toward their high school diploma or General Educational Development (GED) certificate.

Most of those involved view the world of employment with little enthusiasm for a number of reasons, Mrs. Blasigame said.

Some are frightened. Others have had little success in a regular school program and need help in changing their attitude and becoming familiar with the jobs available.

Job development at an early stage and learning what industry and business have to offer are among the program benefits, according to Larry Miller, AFL-CIO labor liaison officer at the Madison County CETA Program, who is keenly interested in the project.

Miller said "linkages" will enable young people between 16 and 18 years old to discover their job interest, prepare for job interviews and learn how they can enter apprenticeship programs, if interested.

Mrs. Blasigame said there have been "very few refusals" from any business firm approached to take part in the program. The sole reason for declining was if a job was considered to be too dangerous, she advised.

Granite City firms involved in the "Linkages in Progress" program, include:

Illinois Power, The Nestle Co.,

New system

mixes water with the concentrated chemical to make a one-percent solution of polymer was purchased as was three feed pumps which direct the solution to the three sludge driers.

Personnel at the plant installed the system which also saved a considerable amount of money for the city.

One tank was salvaged from the old system and is now used for storage of the one-percent solution until it is needed by the feed pumps.

"Another saving," McMillan said, "is that it only costs about $15 to $20 per ton of dry sludge in contrast to $35 to $50 per ton with the old system."

A problem alleviated in using the liquid polymer is that it is a neutral compound which is virtually harmless to the pipes, pumps and other equipment and to the operators of the equipment. Whereas the lime and ferric chloride are caustic materials which eventually corrode and deteriorate the equipment necessitating its replacement. The two chemicals also cause a scum to remain on the equipment.

McMillan has already been asked to present a paper on the design and installation of such a polymer system at the annual conference of the Illinois Association of Water Pollution Control Operators. There already have been several inquiries about the system.

"The best thing about the liquid polymer system is that it has already allowed a 20 percent increase in dry sludge production which is tremendous," McMillan concluded.

Stockholders okay Norfolk rail merger

Stockholders of Southern Railway Company and Norfolk Railway Company have approved an agreement to bring the two companies under common ownership and control by formation of a new holding company.

NW stockholders, meeting in Roanoke, Va., gave the plan a strong vote of confidence, with 99.2 percent of those who voted favoring the consolidation. Southern stockholders, meeting in Richmond, Va., did the same with 99.3 percent of those voting expressing approval.

Both groups approved the plan by far more than the required two-thirds vote of all outstanding shares entitled to vote.

NW stockholders are to receive one share of stock in the new holding company for each share of NW common stock. Southern stockholders will receive 1.9 shares of stock in the new company for each share of Southern common stock.

The next step toward consolidation is a formal application to the Interstate Commerce Commission, expected to be filed in early December.

The ICC must render a decision within 31 months of filing, although in recent similar cases the ICC has acted more quickly.

Consolidation of Southern and NW under a holding company, called NWS Enterprises, Inc., would unite what are regarded as two of the nation's most efficient railroads.

The combined network would include 18,100 miles of railroad extending from the Midwest, the Great Lakes and Canada to the Mid-Atlantic and Southeast regions, including Atlantic and Gulf ports.

The high school students acted as leaders for the discussion groups which were on projects, the sharing of new ideas; job training, for the officers; and representatives—to learn their duties; and Swap Shop, sharing more ideas of general student council activities. High school students included Carla Cain of Bethalto High School; Jerry Ferguson of Southwestern High School of Piasa; Cheryl Wallace of Jerseyville High School; and Granite City High School. South student council members: Joan Baker, Jim Crews, Bob Hubbard, Gay Hubbard, Tammy Huckleberry, Carole Mitchell, Greg Garland, and Bibi Christoff.

The First General Assembly was opened with a welcome by the Coolidge Student Council President Kathy Thornsberry (Spiker). This was followed by the pledge to the flag and National Anthem. Susie Wehrenberg of Waterloo, the southwest district student representative, was introduced. Entertainment was furnished by Joe Donaldson with a "Bit of Magic."

The closing General

Assembly included the showing of slides of the 1980 convention held in the Chicago area last May and narrated by Susie Wehrenberg and Richard Burroughs of Waterloo, who is the southwest district advisor. Summer leadership camp was discussed by Burroughs and assisted by junior camp counselors Carla Cain, Jerry Ferguson, and Cheryl Wallace. Kathy Thornsberry (Spiker) presented attendance certificates to the schools attending.

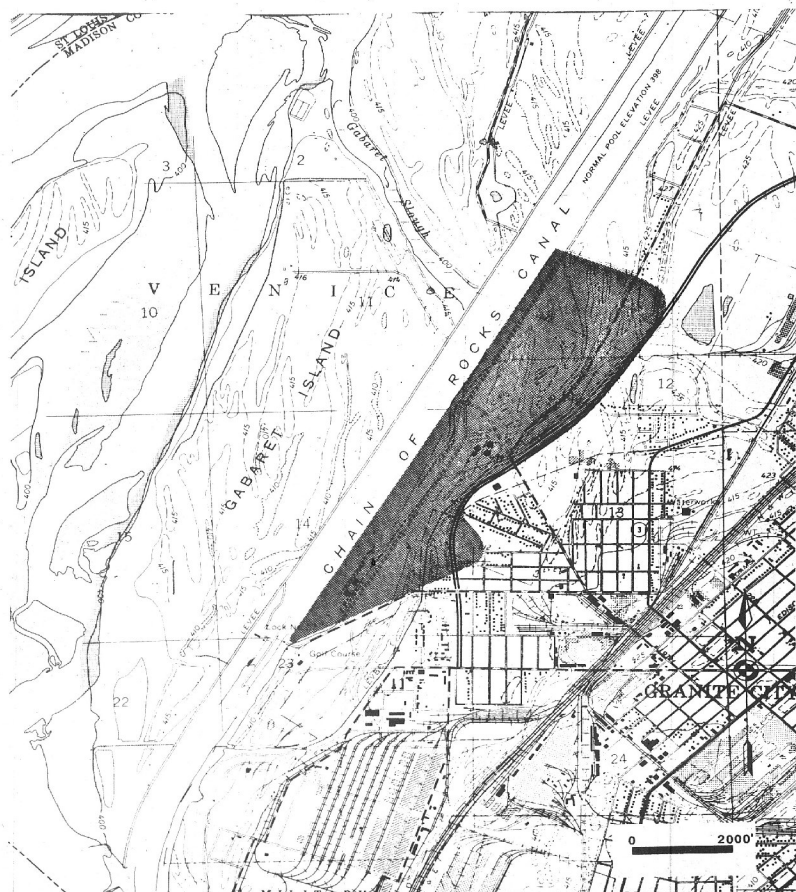

The IAJHSC's theme for the 1980-81 year is "The Journey of Leadership Has Begun" and was carried out by the speech given by Susie Wehrenberg in the opening session and continued throughout the morning.

Coolidge Student Council Advisor Miss Dorothy Hinson was assisted by Coolidge faculty members, Mrs. Sandra Jesse and Stephen Isenbarg. Twenty-six members of the host school council served on committees to plan and direct the workshop.

Less GI Bill correspondence, flight assistance

Veterans taking flight training or correspondence courses under the GI Bill must pay a larger share of the costs under legislation now effective in October.

But low-cost VA loans of up to $2,500 are now available to veterans in flight training. Both provisions were part of "The Education and Rehabilitation Amendments of 1980."

The Congressional action, approved by the president on Oct. 17, also increased GI Bill education allowances.

Students who enroll in correspondence programs after Sept. 1, 1980, may receive 70 percent of the total charges for correspondence training from the Veterans Administration. Veterans in flight training are reimbursed 60 percent of the costs.

Those enrolled in either program on Sept. 1, 1980, or earlier will continue to get 90 percent of the total throughout the course provided the training is continuous and part of the same program of education.

Flight training continues to be restricted to eligible veterans taking an approved course generally accepted as necessary to attain a recognized vocational objective in the aviation field.

Flight students also must meet physical qualifications, and they must have earned a private pilot's license.

Abuse center sponsors play

The Rape and Sexual Abuse Care Center at SIUE and the Woman's Self Help Center of St. Louis will sponsor the play, "Raped: A Woman's Look at Bertolt Brecht's 'The Exception and the Rule,'" Friday, Nov. 21.

Written and produced by an acting troupe from Minneapolis, the play will be presented in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center at 8 p.m. Friday. Tickets will be available that evening at the University Ticket Office.

"Raped" is based on Brecht's parable about a brutal merchant and his cooie. The tale is an indictment of a system in which there are the powerful and the powerless.

The production contains a collage of stories, testimonies and satire about rape.

The effect is a dramatization of Susan Brownmiller's analysis that "rape is man's basic weapon of force against women, and fear of rape is the single most important factor in the subjugation of women by men."

Members of the audience will be encouraged to participate in the theatrical production, stopping the play at any moment to share their own experiences. These personal testimonies give the production an improvisational dimension, according to the sponsors.

STEREO UNITS TAKEN
A stereo unit and speakers valued at a total of $850 were taken by a burglar from the cellar at the home of Mike Skundrich, 1004 Greenwood St., Madison, it was discovered Friday. A $300 stereo, speakers valued at $100 and $100 worth of cassette tapes were stolen Thursday night from the parked auto of Mark Weeks, Glen Carbon, at the Wilbur Waggoner Co. parking lot in Madison.

plications, it was announced today. Located on a 100-by-175-foot lot at 206 Terry St., the frame house features a full basement, a mudroom, a kitchen, a dining room, living room and three bedrooms. Its overall dimensions are 26 by 48 feet.

The fully air-conditioned dwelling was built by the Community Action group, with funds made available through the Madison County Community Development Office.

A price of $43,000 has been set, which covers the cost of land purchase, materials and labor, according to Eddie Salmond, Action Committee president.

First priority to purchase the house was given to current residents of Eagle Park. Prospective buyers must obtain their own financing, but the Action Committee will assist the purchaser and lending institution as much as possible, Salmond said. Persons interested may obtain a letter of intent to purchase from the Venice Township Office, 1502 Fifth St., Madison, as the initial step toward acquiring the dwelling, the committee president explained.

Religious groups to honor Mrs. Everett

On Saturday, Nov. 22, at the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, the Madison County Baptist Association and the Illinois State Baptist Church Music Department, with the combined choirs from the downtown churches and Baptist Association, will accord special honors to Mrs. Jewell Everett for the dedicated service of 50 years as organist and choir director.

Mrs. Everett was feted in May of this year on her 70 years as a piano teacher. At that time, she related that her parents had presented her with a piano on her fifth birthday and she took her first lesson that day.

"Since then, I studied under many teachers, including a voice teacher, whose teacher was taught by the great Lamperti," Mrs. Everett said.

The guest of honor started playing the piano for Sunday school at the First Baptist Church in Granite City at the age of 9. At the age of 17, she was elected at a business meeting to play the organ for church services. And, after three lessons from a conservatory graduate teacher, she had her first experience playing the organ for First Baptist Church.

About the same time that she started playing the organ for the church, she began teaching piano lessons. She was a success as a teacher and gained many more students while continuing her personal education as a music major for six years. Then she again served as church organist and choir director.

Dr. A. E. Everett, whom she married in 1937, encouraged her to continue teaching the piano. She also continued directing the church choir at First Baptist until 1954. She took leave of her duties in 1944 and 1948 when her son and daughter were born.

In 1954, for a period of about three years, Dr. and Mrs. Everett attended Third Baptist Church and she was elected to be the church organist and choir director there. During this time she also taught the adult ladies' Sunday school class.

After the death of Dr. Everett in June, 1957, Mrs. Everett returned to First Baptist, where she started a youth choir. She trained 33 church organists, 50 church pianists, nine persons who have become junior or senior high school music teachers, two who have become ministers, and two who have become ministers of music.

The program for Saturday's event will include a mini pre-program concert by Jack Jenkins, a past student and now minister of music and youth at Second Baptist

JEWELL EVERETT

Church, starting at 7:15 p.m. His presentation will be favorite musical selections of the guest of honor. The soloist will be Mrs. Lois Bilibrey, from Central Christian Church.

An organ concert will feature Dr. Marjorie Palmonds, professor of music at Missouri Baptist College and this year's National Baptist Convention Organist.

Others who will participate in the program will be Carl Sheppard, director of church music for Illinois State Baptist Association, Springfield, Ill., Jack Brand, director of missions for the Madison County Baptist Association, and pianist Miss Carolyn Jenkins, a past student of Mrs. Everett and choir director at First Assembly of God Church, Granite City. Also, the combined choirs under the direction of Timothy E. Burgher, director of music for around the world at the Madison Baptist Association and minister of music at Third Baptist Church.

The planning committee is extending an invitation to all area residents to attend the evening musicale.

TO SHOW PUPPETS

Professor Jules Zanger, professor of the English language and literature at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will demonstrate puppets from around the world at a regular monthly meeting of the Niedringhaus' School PTA Tuesday, Nov. 18, beginning at 7 p.m., in the school gymnasium. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the demonstration and a short business meeting. Businessmen who helped make the school's Halloween carnival a success also are to be praised at the meeting.

Warriors are state champions

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

PALATINE — The long haul is over. And for the fifth straight season, it was well worth the effort. Granite City South's soccer team made four months of seven day a week hard work pay off Saturday night at Palatine Fremd, when it defeated Darien (Hinsdale South) 5-1 to win its fifth consecutive state championship.

South played its usual stingy defense. It was the defense as much as anything that won the Warriors their fifth crown. They held Hinsdale South to only three shots, while collecting 30 of their own. The Warriors' defense let down only once the whole game. And at that time resulted in Hinsdale's lone goal. But aside from that, it was business as usual.

The Warriors dominated play to the extent that by the time the fourth quarter began (with the score still only 2-0) the outcome was obvious the most of the record 3,200 fans watching — only the score was in doubt.

South got two goals from Don Cook. His first, which came with 17:26 remaining in the second quarter, could well have put the Warriors over the hump. It came 14 seconds after Warrior Robbie Mann had scored what appeared to be his first goal of the playoffs on an over-the-head scissors kick right in front of the Hinsdale goal. But the goal was called back because of a South hand ball. It didn't take South long to get the goal back. "I think (the goal) put us over the hump," said South's ace defender Greg White. "Being able to come back so quick like that showed we weren't going to let down. It had to take something out of Hinsdale."

South 5, Hinsdale 1 in state title game

South assistant coach Mel Bunting agreed. "It says a lot for our kids," he said. "They could have let down and folded after it was called back. But it was a super effort."

The man who engineered the South drive toward the state crown was, of course, head coach Gene Baker, who upped his state final mark to 16-2. "I'd like to do this forever," he said. "It's fun."

"I thought we maintained the ball well except for that lapse after we scored the second goal." That lapse gave Hinsdale South's Hornets two things: Their first shot on goal and their only goal. It was scored by Frank Espinoza unassisted after South failed to clear the ball out of its own penalty area.

FOR A WHILE early in the game, one play loomed heavy over Baker and his team. It came with 24 seconds remaining in the first quarter. All-American David Fernandez, playing in his final game for South, was injured when slide-tackled by a Hinsdale defender five feet outside of the Hornets' goal after he had zig-zagged his way through the helpless defenders. South was awarded a penalty kick on the play and Dave Paz was good on the attempt to give the Warriors their first goal. But Fernandez had to be carried off the field. The injury turned out to be a deep gash and a severe bruise on his right knee. About 10 minutes later, with the knee wrapped in tape, Fernandez returned to the lineup. "I wasn't letting that keep me out of the game," said Fernandez. "It hurt, but I've played hurt before. This one was too big. It was going to take more than that to keep me off the field."

SOUTH'S OUTBURST in the fourth quarter hinged on the unbelievable. After coming off a grueling four overtime penalty kick victory over Chicago Bowen in the semifinals Saturday morning, the Warriors were far from tired late in the title contest. Instead of looking fatigued, they instead appeared to pick up steam as the game went on. "We weren't tired then," said South's Robbie Mann. "We were tired after that (semifinal) game. But when this one started, we forgot about it."

The outburst started when Rich Moore scored on an unassisted goal with 17:48 left in the game. Then Cook scored his second. Finny sophomore Tony Segobiano scored his team's fifth of the game with a shot from just outside the penalty area after a throw-in assist from John Rushing. It marked the first game in the playoffs Fernandez did not score.

Where from here for the Warriors? "This never gets old," said Baker. "It might stop sometime, but I hope it never does. It's too much fun."

LeMaster shines as champs dodge bullet

By PETE HAYES

PALATINE — The gun was loaded. It pointed right at the forehead. But Granite City South dodged the bullet. And it may have just won the Warriors a fifth straight state soccer championship.

South advanced to the championship game here Saturday morning with a thrilling come-from-behind 2-1 overtime penalty kick victory over Chicago Bowen in the semifinals of the IHSAA State Soccer Tournament at Fremd Field.

It was a classic. Truly. South came back to the game in the third period and went on to win it on penalty kicks after four five-minute overtime periods were played. Two dramatic saves by Warrior goalie Joe LeMaster and penalty kick goals by David Fernandez, David Paz, Jim Brewer and finally Robbie Mann gave South the win.

South 2, Bowen 1 in semifinal shootout

South coach Gene Baker stood alongside the field after the game. He rolled his eyes. He shook his head.

"Wow!" he muttered. "We showed some character today by coming back the way we did. But that Bowen team was a very good team. Probably as good a team as we've seen up here (in the State Finals)."

Bowen's Boilemakers, while a scrappy bunch with some talent, were still dictated to by South, or so the statisticians point out. South outshot the Boilemakers 23-7. But Bowen's first shot of the game went in. It was scored by David Cassilas on a header from the right side into the upper right corner of the goal just beyond LeMaster. It came with 18:47 remaining in the fourth quarter.

But Fernandez took care of the deficit. The Warriors came at Bowen with a vengeance early in the second half. After dominating play, Fernandez finally scored the equalizer with 16:01 remaining in the third period off an indirect kick. Teammate Tim Dix pushed the ball between Fernandez's legs, who then raced around the defense and launched the shot. It went through a tangle of legs, hit the left goal post and bounced into the goal past a stunned Luis Manuel Garcia, Bowen's All-State goalie.

Then came the stalemate, the overtimes, the penalty kicks. "All the years I've been coaching," said Baker, "I've never won a game on penalty kicks. But this year I win two (the first one came over St. Louis DuBourg in the semifinals of the C.Y.C. Tournament in St. Louis earlier)."

"I've said it before. I don't really like going to penalty kicks to decide games. I think it's unfair to either team. I really feel bad for their (Bowen) kids. They played a whale of a game. They're just about as good a team as we've seen up here."

After playing through the overtimes, each team selected five players to take the penalty kicks in alternating rotation. First up, Fernandez. Garcia waited. Fernandez fired. Good.

Up for Bowen, Andrade Leopoldo. His shot was weak and LeMaster had but to slide to his left to stop it. South was one up.

Next up for South, Brewer. He boomed a shot into the upper left corner. The pressure on Garcia now was even greater.

Then came Ignacio Rodriguez, who earlier had scored in Bowen's quarterfinal victory over Gordon Tech. LeMaster rocked back and forth, waiting. It was a guessing game. Rodriguez would go with the shot. Rodriguez guessed which way LeMaster would dive. LeMaster guessed wrong, but still made a dramatic save when, realizing that he had dived the wrong way, kicked out at the ball as he was landing on his back.

BAC Dutchmen are ousted as Schoolcraft surprises

PALATINE — Belleville Area College's hopes of going to the National Junior College Soccer Finals in Trenton, N.J. were dashed here Saturday afternoon by Schoolcraft Junior College of Michigan 4-1 in the finals of the Inter-Regional playoff.

And the best team didn't win. It was simply of case of Belleville having one of those games when nothing goes right. And nothing did.

"They out-classed us," said Schoolcraft coach Larry Christoff of BAC. "Man for man, they have better skills. Actually, you know, our offense has no style whatsoever."

The Schoolcraft offense

did have enough style to score four goals in the first half and coast to the victory. "We played a poor game," said BAC coach Mike Moore. "We beat ourselves."

Former Granite City North goalie Tracy Hickman got to see defensive action when starting goalie Bob Belobaydic had his nose broken on Schoolcraft's second goal. "I'm disappointed for these guys," said Moore. "They've worked awfully hard. We got beat by the worst team in the tournament."

Schoolcraft, raised its record to 12-2-2 while BAC ends its season as the ninth ranked team in the country with a 17-4-2 record.

Hinsdale narrowly advances to championship match, 1-0

PALATINE — On the strength of a tough defense and a goal in the second quarter, the Hinsdale South Hornets beat Northbrook (Glenbrook North) 1-0 Saturday afternoon and advanced to the championship game of the Illinois State Soccer Tournament at Palatine Fremd High School.

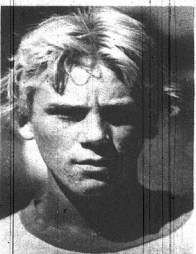

Hinsdale advanced to face four-time defending state champion Granite City South in the title match Saturday night (see related story). It was a defensive game between Hinsdale's Hornets and Glenbrook North's Spartans. Glenbrook North actually outshot Hinsdale South 11-9, but both teams had only four shots on goal.

The game was rough from the start, but most of the roughness was one-sided. In all, Hinsdale South had 47 fouls called against it, while Glenbrook North was whistled for "only" 21.

The victory raised Hinsdale South's record to 18-4-3 going into the championship against Granite City South's 25-2-1 Warriors. Glenbrook North, which had earlier ousted Hinkley-Big Rock, finished at 16-4-1.

South goalie 'told' wrong on each kick

PALATINE — Granite City South junior goalie Joe LeMaster just about single-handedly sent the Warriors into the championship game of the Illinois State Soccer Tournament here Saturday morning with a brilliant performance against Chicago Bowen in an overtime penalty kick shootout.

And he did it on his own this time. LeMaster, who had earlier allowed Bowen's only goal of the game, avenged himself. He stopped the first two penalty kicks attempted by Bowen, while his teammates made all four of theirs against Bowen's All-State goalie Luis Manuel Garcia. South coach Gene Baker gets most of the credit for his team's rise to five straight championships, but this time give the credit to LeMaster.

"Coach and I have a signal system on penalty kicks," said LeMaster after the game. "He watches the player taking the shot and motions to me which way to dive. It's just about the only way to stop a penalty kick."

But LeMaster found two other ways Saturday. That's because Baker told him wrong on each penalty kick. "Coach guessed wrong every time," laughed LeMaster. "But on the first one, the shot (by Leopoldo Andrade) was slow so I could get back and stop it."

The second Bowen penalty kick (by Ignacio Rodriguez), however, wasn't so slow, and LeMaster appeared beaten. But as he dived to his left, he saw the ball heading right. With his back parallel with the ground in midair, he kicked out and knocked the ball away at the last second. "It was saw it out of the corner of my eye," he said.

Bowen's Felipe Cassilas made his team's third attempt, but when Warrior Robbie Mann boomed one into the upper right corner of the net, it was all over.

South makes light work of Wheaton

Warriors advance with 4-0 victory

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

PALATINE — Behind goals by four different players, Granite City South advanced to the IHSA State Soccer Semifinals here Friday afternoon with a 4-0 victory over Wheaton Christian in the first round of the State Finals at Palatine Fremd.

But, for most of the first three quarters, it looked like it could be one of those games. One of those games in which nothing goes right for the team that dominates play. But thanks to a fourth quarter scoring barrage, South's Warriors were able to breathe a little easier. "Up until that second goal, it was anybody's game," said South coach Gene Baker, whose team won its 13th straight game in state tournament action, dating back to 1976. "The second goal took some of the pressure off."

South took the lead at the 13:31 mark in the second quarter when Tony Segobiano launched a header toward the Wheaton goal only to see Wheaton goalie Gary Gulley knock it away right onto the foot of a teammate rushing toward the goal. The ball went in off the defense. Segobiano was not given credit for the goal. It was listed as an "own goal."

"It was the right call," said Baker. "It could have gone to Tony, but calling it an own goal wasn't wrong."

Even though the Warriors from Wheaton played South toe-to-toe for most of the first half and the third quarter, they were never really in the game. Granite City outshot Wheaton 24-1. And Wheaton's lone shot on goal came late in the game on a direct kick from just outside the South penalty area on an obstruction call on South's Greg White.

"It was a debatable call," said Baker. "But you really can't complain. We still allowed one shot all game. We still haven't been scored on in playoffs."

South got its breathing room with 19:10 remaining in the game when Richie Moore scored his first goal of the playoffs. Segobiano spotted Moore all alone to the left side of the goal, just inside the penalty area. Moore took the pass and blasted the ball past a sprawling Gulley, the play started from a throw in by Robbie Mann, who also got an assist.

Barely over a minute later, All-Star David Fernandez, who had been wooing the Wheaton players all with his footwork, scored his seventh goal of the playoffs when he scooped from the side the penalty area. Taking a pass from Lloyd Sharp, Fernandez booted the ball along the ground through a maze of legs into the left side of the goal. Gulley appeared to have been screened on the play.

The final South goal of the game came from substitute Eric Wallenberger. John Rushing fed a long crossfield pass to Wallenberger who booted a line drive from the left side about 30 yards out and into the upper right hand corner of the goal.

Bowen edges Gordon T.

PALATINE — Poor old Chicago Bowen. They don't get no respect. The Boiler-makers, owners of a 17-1 record going into the State Soccer Finals, aren't exactly the figure of an awe-inspiring team when they warm up. In fact, had to borrow uniforms and warm ups from Chicago Wells Friday. They don't own enough soccer balls for the entire team to warm up before games. Only the starting players get to warm up. The subs sit on the bench.

But there's one thing about Bowen, the Boiler-makers win.

Bowen did it again here Friday in the quarterfinals of the Illinois State Soccer Tournament at Fremd High. They edged out a 1-0 last-minute squeaker over Chicago Gordon Tech in the second quarterfinal game of the tournament and won the right to meet defending state champion Granite City South in the semifinals. In other quarterfinal action Friday, Glenbrook North edged Palatine 1-0 and Hinsdale South surprised Hinckley-Big Rock 2-0.

Bowen got a goal from Ignacio Rodriguez with only 5:12 remaining in regulation time. Up until that point, an overtime game looked likely. Rodriguez scored the ball unassisted when he pounced on a rebound off a blocked shot and booted it into the goal. Rodriguez started the play himself with a throw in from the right side of the goal about 35 yards out. A short by a teammate was blocked by Gordon Tech goalie Tom Breason. But Breason couldn't find the handle on the ball and it bounced out of his grasp. Rodriguez was there.

With a cold wind blowing, the game was a brutally physical one, with neither team showing much organization. But Bowen at times showed flashes of ball-handling skills and in the end had just enough to edge into the semifinals.

They had that much. PALATINE-GLENBROOK Glenbrook North advanced to the semifinals when it made an early goal stand up against favored Palatine Senior. Palatine's Pirates, playing on the Fremd Field for the fourth time this season, obviously didn't learn any secrets about the playing surface the first three games. Even though they controlled much of the flow of the game, the Pirates couldn't solve the Spartans' defense or goalie Doug Corfield took a pass from teammate Hugh Garret on a break down the middle of the field. He caught Palatine goalie Steve Herndon (an all-state selection) out of position and chipped in an easy goal into the empty net.

"Steve tried to do too much," said Palatine coach Rod Gibbs. "It hurt because it took away our momentum. But he can't be faulted for the loss. We still had plenty of opportunities." On the play, Herndon came out of the net to charge at Corfield and attempt to steal the ball from him.

HINSDALE-HINCKLEY Hinckley Big Rock's dream of bringing the state championship back to northern Illinois ended abruptly Friday night. With the cold wind blowing and temperatures hovering barely above freezing, the Royals bowed to Hinsdale South 2-0. Hinsdale scored goals in the second and fourth quarters and made them hold up with goalie Hector Artega getting the shutout.

Hinsdale got its first goal just as the second quarter began. Stung Kim made good on a shot that bounced high in the air and over the outstretched hand of Hinckley goalie Tom Bafia. The Hornets' second goal was scored late, when Frank Rappina beat Bafia with a 4-37 left.

Hinckley actually had the best chances of the game, but couldn't convert. The Royals outshot Hinsdale 19-11 and had a 6-1 edge in corner kicks. Hinckley bowed out with a 26-4-1 record.

Big Red folds to Cowboys

DALLAS — The St. Louis football Cardinals did it again here Sunday. They racked up an early lead and lost it in the second half. But by now, fans have come to expect it.

Sunday, St. Louis lost to Dallas 31-21 after leading at one point 14-0.

St. Louis wasted little time on the Cardinals' first play from scrimmage, star running back Ottis Anderson raced 22 yards with the ball and scored a touchdown on his longest run from scrimmage this season.

Anderson gained an even 100 yards in the game. He became the first running back in NFL history to gain 100 yards or more against Dallas in his career three separate times. This is only Anderson's second season in the league.

The other Big Red touchdowns were scored on long passes from Jim Hart to Pat Tilley. St. Louis led 21-17 at halftime.

Dallas, however, did fold. Two Danny White touchdown passes spelled doom for the Cardinals. The Cowboys raised their record to 8-5, while St. Louis dipped to 2-3. The Cards will host Kansas City next Sunday at Busch Stadium.

Players and coaches react

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

PALATINE — After Granite City South's thrilling 2-1 overtime penalty kick victory over Chicago Bowen Saturday morning in the semifinals of the Illinois State Soccer Tournament, the team was literally drained. Both physically and mentally. But later that same day, you'd hardly have known it. The Warriors played one of their best games of the season Saturday night and won their fifth consecutive state soccer championship.

But the whole story of the tournament did take place on the field. There were many highlights off the field as well.

Highlights, sidelights from Palatine

victory, one player joined in a state championship victory celebration for the first time in his life. Senior Robbie Mann, center of controversy before the season began when he transferred to Granite South after gaining All-State honors last season at Collinsville, was that player. "This is fantastic," he said. "There's been a lot of pressure this season. But I tell you, it's been worth it. We had problems, but this makes it all pay off."

at Collinsville, the entire tournament scored the goal that won the game against Bowen and sent the Warriors into the final. It was his team's fourth penalty kick attempt. Bowen had already had two of its first three penalty kicks are best three out of five) blocked by South goalie Joe LeMaster. If Mann scored, South would win.

"Just before I walked up to take the kick, I glanced up into the stands, and guess who I saw," said Mann. "Coach Stranz. I took that as sort of an omen."

Hinsdale South coach Larry Foss, after his team was blitzed 5-1 in the title match by South, reacted to South: "In the final, I think we were a bit awed at first by Granite City," he said. "But when we came back (to make the score 2-1), I think we surprised them."

Foss also said that the 5-1 final score was a bit misleading. "The score was somewhat meaningless because I was substituting freely late in the game," he said. "I brought 22 players and all of them had a chance to get in including a couple freshmen. It was a great experience to be in this game and I wanted all the kids to share it."

To say that South dominated the statistics in the State Finals is an understatement. The Warriors outshot their three opponents by a combined total of 76-11.

South spikers beat Granite City North

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — What a way to conclude the girls volleyball season. A year ending match between Granite South and Granite North. But the confrontation did not produce the usual inter-city rivalry as noted in other sports.

The Steelers struggling with a winless record had hopes of rectifying it at home at the expense of the Warriors Thursday. Their hopes were dashed. It only took South 20 minutes to dispose of North in straight games 15-1 and 15-2. Two serves was all the Warriors needed to polish off North in the opening game. South could do no wrong as Susan Jeffries served up the first 14 points in a row. She was aided by a couple of awesome spikes from Chris Boyd. The Warriors did manage to lose their serve and North took the opportunity to chalk up its only tally on a delivery from Freshman Lisa Lilley. One serve, one point. That's all the Steelers got. South's Nita Graham finished the lop-sided contest.

"We had to be ready to play," said Warrior head coach Wilma Shultz. "We beat North easy the first time we played them, but can't take any chances. One or two points either way and a game can slip away just that quickly." North tried to slip away with the second game as it looked like the stunned feeling from the opening contest was over.

Erin McKeehan's serving touch pushed the Steelers ahead for the first and only time in the match. North looked strong leading 2-1. "I told the girls after that game that we had to go back to basics," said North head coach Sharon Bloodworth. "We had to concentrate on playing our own game."

South took whatever strength and game plan North had right away when Karen Spencer, Boyd and Jeffries went to work. A point winning spike from Spencer opened the doors. South field North to two points despite numerous Venise lace appliques enhanced the front of the skirt and tiny lace ruffles encircled the hemline and chapel train.

She wore a lace camelot headpiece to secure her fingertip veil of bridal illusion. Her bouquet was an arrangement of burgundy roses, white baby mums and carnations with sprigs of baby's breath tied with burgundy velvet streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Leslie Houser and bridesmaids Miss Lisa Stegemeier, Miss Susan Hunsinger, Miss Kathy Small and Tracy Mercer, a niece of the bride, were dressed alike in burgundy qiana gowns.

Their dresses were designed with halter bodices and pleated skirts complemented with matching chiffon capes bordered with wide white lace.

Attending the groom as best man was Richard Foy, Alan and Paul Milton, brothers of the groom, Tom Roberts, Ed Mitchell, David Mercer and David Dorch completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Miss Cindy Smith and Miss Beth Wyatt distributed rice flowers and Mrs. Tammy Roberts presided over the guest book.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception held at Engelbert Hall in Madison. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Ravanelli's Restaurant.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Garino selected an apricot polyester gown fashioned with spaghetti straps and pleated skirt trimmed in Venice lace and worn with a chiffon cape.

Mrs. Milton, mother of the groom, was attired in a jade green crepe floor length dress designed with a sleeveless empire bodice complemented with a hand-painted matching chiffon cape with a stand-up collar.

Both young people are enrolled at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and both graduated from South High School.

The bride is working as a checker at Shop-N-Save.

Store and the groom is also attending Control Date Institute and is an employee of Wolf Manufacturing Co. They are residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks.

Chapter HT anniversary

Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, celebrated the 29th anniversary of the founding of the chapter with a birthday party held in the home of Mrs. B. J. Davis, last week.

Assisting the hostess was Mrs. R. W. Kerch and Mrs. P. M. Jackstadt. A luncheon was served preceding the business segment and favors were shell necklaces presented to each member by Mrs. Kerch as a memento of her recent trip to Hawaii.

During the meeting Mrs. B. S. Miller announced residents of the P.E.O. Home in Knoxville, Ill., are planning holiday activities and need small gifts for game prizes.

All members are to bring such gifts to the next meeting and Mrs. Miller will forward them to the home, it was noted.

Mrs. E. G. Marshman reported that Mary Murren of Glasgow, Scotland, is now attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on an International Peace Scholarship, a project of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

The remainder of the gathering was spent in playing the game Family Feud with prizes awarded to Mrs. A. C. Stoeber, Mrs. G. E. Halyama, Mrs. C. E. Mathias and Mrs. R. E. Backs.

Mrs. Miller invited the chapter members to meet at her home on Nov. 24.

Christmas Ideas Festival Saturday

PEOPLE

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
of the Press-Record

Fifty-three craftsmen and artists will participate in the third annual "Christmas Ideas Festival," a unique show designed to display and sell crafts, gifts, decorations and ideas, scheduled from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22. The program will be sponsored by the Granite City Park District at the Namecki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin Avenues.

The public is invited and no admission will be charged. All items displayed in the show are handcrafted originals with the craftsmen representing many communities in the St. Louis bi-state region. Fifteen out-of-town artists are expected this year.

Capacity crowds have attended the two previous festivals.

Competitive awards to graduate students

The Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is seeking applicants for a number of graduate awards available for students of high academic quality.

The awards include tax-free stipends of $3,015 ($335 per month) for the nine-month academic year, as well as remission of tuition and some fees, according to Floyd Coleman, assistant dean.

Awards are available on a competitive basis in two categories:

—Degree-seeking graduate students with an overall 4.3 (A equals 5.0) or better undergraduate average. The intent of these awards is to recognize and encourage students who have shown outstanding potential as revealed through past academic records, letters of recommendation, and other evidence of outstanding achievement.

—Degree-seeking graduate students who demonstrate financial need and academic promise. For this second type of award, special consideration is given to applicants with minority status and to residents of the Madison-St. Clair counties area; foreign students on student visas are excluded.

Students in off-campus programs and unclassified students are not eligible for either type of award.

A recipient must be fully admitted as a classified graduate student to a specific degree program, carry a minimum of 12 hours of graduate credit each quarter, and maintain the required minimum grade point average.

Award holders cannot accept university employment during the award period. The awards are not renewable, Coleman said. Awards are for the following academic year. Application forms are available in the Graduate School Office (Rendleman 2215).

Completed applications are to be returned directly to the Graduate School no later than Feb. 1, 1981. All applicants will be notified by April 1, 1981.

VENICE BURGLARY
It has not been determined if anything was stolen during a break-in at the home of John Robinson, 413 Mercedes Ave., Venice, between 7 p.m. Wednesday and 6:40 p.m. Thursday. Police were told that Robinson was on vacation and had taken most of his valuables to a friend's house to keep while he was gone.

Urge residents to take part in smokeout

The Granite City chapter of the American Cancer Society has urged Quad-Cityans to take part in the "Great American Smokeout," which will be held Nov. 20 under the sponsorship of the American Cancer Society.

Smokers are being requested to take one complete day off smoking, or to quit entirely. Jack Grieves and Charles King, co-chairmen of the project in this area, pointed out that there is one death every two minutes or 37 deaths per hour attributable to smoking.

They said smoking blocks the filtering activity of the lung's air sacs, restricts blood vessels and breathing movements of unborn babies to women who smoke, drives up the level of fatty acids in the blood and causes allergic reactions to non-smokers.

CAR BURNS AT SOUTH
Firemen have been unable to determine the cause of a fire which damaged the auto of Chris Weis of the 3100 block of Aubrey Avenue in the rear parking lot of Granite City High School South at 2:45 p.m. Thursday. Dry leaves and a wooden tire stop caught on fire and the flames spread to the front end of the car before firemen arrived. Damage was restricted to the front end of the vehicle.

Schnucks holiday concert vouchers

Schnucks will again be offering discount vouchers for special holiday concerts by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

"The discount vouchers were popular with our customers last year, and we decided to make the offer again this year for the holiday series," Scott Schnuck, vice president of marketing at Schnuck Markets, comments.

Special vouchers will be available in all Schnucks supermarkets beginning Sunday, Nov. 23. The voucher entitles the holder to a $1 discount on a ticket to any of the 11 holiday concerts. Tickets bought without vouchers range from $5 to $11 per person.

The vouchers are free, with no purchase requirement at Schnucks. The vouchers are redeemable in person or by mail only at Powell Symphony Hall, 718 N. Grand, St. Louis 83103 (pending ticket availability and not in connection with any other discount).

This year's holiday concerts at Powell will begin Wednesday, Dec. 10, at 8:30 p.m. with Leonard Slatkin conducting Handel's "Messiah," featuring the St. Louis Symphony Chorus directed by Thomas Peck, will be repeated Thursday, Dec. 11, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 14, at 3 p.m.

The special "holiday pops" concert, with Norman Leyden conducting, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Dec. 17, at 8:30 p.m.; and Friday, Dec. 19, at 8:30 p.m.

Tchaikovsky's holiday ballet, "The Nutcracker," with the Missouri Concert Ballet directed by Alexandra Zaharias, will be performed Friday, Dec. 26, at 7:30 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 27, at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, Dec. 28, at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

St. Louis Symphony Associates Conductor Gerdard Zimmermann will conduct all performances of "The Nutcracker."

ASIAN LANDS NEXT

WOMEN'S CLUB TOPIC

Pictures and a commentary on Bhutan and Burma will be featured at a meeting of the SUE Women's Club Thursday, Nov. 20, at the home of Mrs. Charles Schweizer, 2 Lakewood Drive, Edwardsville.

Mrs. Byron Morgan of Godfrey will describe her experiences in Bhutan, a principality in the Himalayas northeast of India, and Burma, a republic in Southeast Asia which received its independence from Britain in 1948.

Mrs. Morgan calls Bhutan "the last of the forbidden kingdoms" where few people have visited. "Tourists are not allowed to stay more than 10 days," she said. Her program will include color slides of Burma, which has 5,000 pagodas in Pagan alone.

The Women's Club meeting begins at 1 p.m. and is open to guests, according to its president, Mrs. Eugene Herscher of Edwardsville.

Car jumps curb hits power pole

A 1973 Dodge operated by Monte Richard Pence, 27, of 3700 Pontoon Road, heading east in the 3100 block of Jill Avenue early Thursday, jumped the curb and struck a power pole.

Pence, who allegedly was boisterous and uncooperative with officers at the scene, was charged with reckless driving.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and treated for a laceration, to the forehead before being released.

ARTWORKS DISPLAYED

Sponsored by the Films and Visual Arts Committee of the University Center Board, the exhibit is free and open to the public from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7:30 a.m. to midnight Saturday, 9 a.m. to midnight Sunday, and 5 to 10 p.m. Sunday. ### GCS women hear psychic consultant

A psychic consultant and hand analyst was guest speaker at the November dinner meeting of the Granite City Steel Women's Association, held last week at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

Seventy-five members attended the buffet dinner and heard Bobbie Stieb of Belleville describe many of her experiences as a psychic consultant.

Mrs. Stieb, 37, has used her gift to work with police departments and physicians, she told the group.

She noted it can take up to 62 hours to successfully complete an individual hand analysis and said certain medical facts can be revealed through this type of service.

Mrs. Stieb, whose husband is a hypnotist, discussed her beliefs in reincarnation.

She also demonstrated some facets of her psychic abilities to the audience by answering questions which were written and sealed in advance. Mae Wilson, association vice-president and program chairman, offered the invocation and introduced the guest speaker.

Pat Mihu, president, was in charge of the business session. Reports were given by Debbie Lindner, secretary, and Midge Wadlow, treasurer.

Members voted to present a cash gift to the Grady White Fund at Christmastime as the association's annual charitable project.

Plans for the Christmas dinner meeting were announced. The event will take place Dec. 9 on the Goldenrod Showboat, moored at the St. Louis riverfront.

Perma Boyer served as chairman of last week's dinner.

"A fireplace is a good, cheap way to supplement central heating"

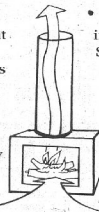

☐ True ☐ False ☐ Maybe

Whether or not a woodburning fireplace is an efficient source of heat depends on its design.

Illinois Power wants our customers to be aware that the conventional open fireplace could be an expensive and inefficient way to provide heat.

Here's why: the strong draft of air that pulls the smoke up the chimney must be replaced. That means that air from other rooms and from the outside is drawn through the house into the fireplace and up the chimney. So while it's warm near the fire, other rooms are being cooled. And your central heating works harder than ever.

Cozy as your open fireplace is, it could also be boosting your heating bill. But perhaps its charm is worth the expense. Given the facts above, that's for you to decide.

Fireplace Tips

● Fireplaces equipped with air re-circulation devices can be an efficient source of heat. Check the modern designs now available.

● Well-fitted glass doors seal off the cold down-draft from the chimney after the fire has burned out.

● Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. An open damper has the same effect as an open window.

● For energy saving ideas about fireplaces, ask our Energy Use Advisor.

GC to open drainage bids

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Granite City officials were to open bids this morning on the North Drainage program—a $650,000 Community Development Fund project that could get underway in a matter of weeks.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said five sets of plans and specifications have been secured from his office as the basis of bidding by building contractors and it appeared certain several offers will be available for opening today.

Bids traditionally are submitted for opening at the time they are called, rather than at an earlier time. The bids on the drainage program were to be opened at 10:30 a.m. today at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens.

Bids are to be made in sections for varying phases of the work and will have to be computed to determine a low bid, Brewer said. The opening schedule was set today so that a report may be prepared in time for Tuesday night's council meeting. Any contract awarded for the project would have to be approved by the council.

The holding pond for the drainage system would be built on 11.9 acres of land behind the Feralloy Metals Co. plant at 25th street and Nameoki Drive that was purchased last August from Ralph Morris II at a cost of $83,380, or $7,000 per acre.

The drainage pond will serve the North Granite City area and will be particularly needed after a $220,000 street and curb improvement program is completed in that area after June 1981, Brewer said.

The program is being carried out without direct cost to the taxpayers since it will be financed with funds provided by the Community Development Fund. A total of $650,000 has been set aside for the work.

Although the total was to include drainage work for the Briarcliff area, that program has been sidetracked by residents of the area who appeared at a city council meeting to protest the location of a holding pond in that area.

Brewer said he does not know at this time what the North Granite drainage plan will cost, but it will be taken from the fund set up for the combined project.

The Briarcliff holding pond would have been built in the "hub jungle" area east of the railroad tracks near the end of Vale Avenue.

Since the hearing protesting the Briarcliff pond, Brewer has said the project has been "placed on a back burner" until plans are worked out for North Granite.

If a contract results from today's bidding a "mountain of dirt" will be removed from the area behind Feralloy Metals—approximately 130,000 cubic yards—to create the holding pond which will have walls built on a four-to-one ratio.

"This means, Brewer explained, that for each four feet in depth, the thickness of the walls must increase by one foot. "Due to the type of soil there, that is the way we have to do it," Brewer said.

A report on today's bid opening and a recommendation is expected to be made to the city council during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

SLUDGE DRYING PROCESS at the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Plant involves the induction of a one percent polymer solution into the sludge to hasten the dewatering.

Boris Dineff, a filter operator at the plant, checks the feed rate of the solution on the apparatus which dilutes the concentrate. The use of polymer in the drying process has recently begun at the plant and is saving the city money while also being more efficient than the old system.

Sludge is non-hazardous, EPA rules

Hoping to end a controversy with the landfill where it dumps treated sludge, the City of Granite City on Thursday delivered a laboratory test report showing the sludge is non-hazardous under Environmental Protection Agency standards.

Terrence McMillan, superintendent of the city's wastewater (sanitary sewage) treatment plant, handed the Sverdrup and Parcel company's report to SCA Services, operator of the landfill.

The landfill began blocking trucks hauling sludge from the treatment plant Nov. 3, citing a mid-November federal deadline on certification of non-hazardous waste.

The city objected to the cutoff, which resulted in an accumulation of sludge outside the plant and consternation among neighbors of the treatment plant site, which is located at the Granite City Army Installation.

SCA permitted a resumption of hauling on Nov. 10, setting a new deadline of Nov. 15 which was met by the Nov. 13 delivery of the test report. A previous report had been filed with SCA by the city last spring.

City officials have wondered whether SCA might have another motive for the sludge cutoff, but SCA spokesmen insist they only were concerned about meeting federal requirements.

Debating future possibilities with the landfill as a possibility, some municipal officials indicate they will review the outlook at tomorrow night's City Council meeting.

College may replace 80 striking teachers

In a resolution adopted Friday, the Belleville Area College board indicated it may seek to fire about 80 striking faculty members if they do not return to work by 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The strike began two weeks ago, and no return to work is planned this week, James Massey says. He is vice-president of the BAC chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Some classes are continuing, taught by non-striking faculty members and by part-time instructors.

"BAC contends that its teachers are the highest paid community college faculty members in the state. Teachers say there is no major disagreement on pay, but many of them object to the college's effort to increase the class workload."

College trustees Friday authorized Bruce Wissore, interim president, to interview and hire replacements, extend the current semester, and reschedule or cancel classes.

The AAUP has urged binding arbitration on productivity issues. The BAC board has declined to accept this proposal. The two parties met Friday morning with a federal mediator but little progress occurred.

The board and administration contend that the productivity level should be made closer to the workload at other Downstate community colleges. The strikers say their academic freedom and civil liberties would be jeopardized.

Assets ordered seized for delinquent taxes

Assets of Paul Seebold Concrete Co. of Granite City were ordered seized by the Illinois Department of Revenue today.

A warrant for the seizure of assets to recover $1,062 in delinquent state sales taxes was delivered to the Madison County sheriff. The seizure order was part of a continuing department effort to collect delinquent taxes.

The seizure warrant is issued under provisions of Section 5 (f) of the Illinois Retailers' Occupation Tax Act. The law permits the seizure and sale of assets of a user who fails to remit to the state the motor vehicle use tax.

The law provides that property seized for taxes can be sold at public auction if the tax bill remains unpaid for 30 days after the warrant is issued. Proceeds from the sale are applied to the tax bill, penalties and interest, and any fees incurred by the sheriff in executing the warrant.

Fire causes tenants to move out of home

A two-story frame house fire at 1647 Seventh St., Madison, at 6:35 a.m. Sunday, did heavy damage to the three family structure making the residents seek shelter with friends and relatives.

The second floor, where Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barton and their three children were living, was completely destroyed and the roof caved in.

Water and smoke damage has caused the downstairs tenants, Betty Allen, Barbara Lock and Lawrence Newman to also move.

The building is owned by Joe Marsala.

There were 14 Madison firemen at the scene until 9:30 a.m.

The fire department responded with two pumps and rescue truck, using two fire hydrants and 2,300 feet of hose.

Estimate of the damage has not been made.

A fire department spokesman said it is believed that the fire started on the second floor, from a short in the wiring on a television set.

Mark Education Week

Schools across the state and the nation will celebrate American Education Week, November 16-22, based on the theme, "Education in the 80's - Preparation for the Future."

"For schools to prepare students to meet the challenges of today and the future, education needs the full support of teachers, school officials, students, parents and the community working together," State Superintendent of Education Donald G. Gill said.

"With our combined support, Illinois' schools will continue to provide the solid educational framework needed to face present and future challenges."

President Carter and Governor Thompson have each issued proclamations to observe the week as American Education Week in Illinois and the nation.

"The theme of American Education Week is not limited to the 80's," Gill explained. "Technology is moving at such a rapid pace that jobs created today may be obsolete tomorrow. Schools are now faced with the task of preparing individuals for several careers during their lives."

How to select nursing home

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

When the time comes to choose a nursing home, it is usually done in a crisis situation. Few people plan for retirement to a nursing home; many aren't even aware that there are different kinds of nursing homes.

A nursing home should be chosen on the basis of the patient's needs.

Your physician can best decide whether the patient should enter a skilled nursing, an intermediate care, or a sheltered care facility.

Once that decision has been made, make a list of those nursing homes in your area that meet the patient's specific needs.

Your doctor can suggest some homes, but you may also wish to consult your clergyman, senior citizen groups, relatives, and friends.

When you have narrowed your list down to the facilities that provide the services needed, make appointments with the administrators for late-morning visits.

Spend at least an hour inspecting the physical condition of each facility.

Be particularly alert for potential hazards. There should be handrails in hallway and grab bars in bathrooms.

Chairs should be sturdy enough not to tip. There should be no throw rugs or small area rugs, nor should there be small objects on the floor over which a patient could trip.

Ask to see the home's last fire safety inspection. A home that has not been cleared for fire safety within the year should be marked off your list.

Inspect the kitchen while the noon meal is being prepared. Does it meet your standards for cleanliness? Is the food selection healthful? Does it look and taste appealing?

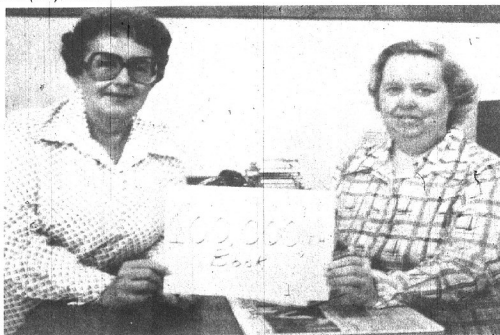

The state health department's regulations require each bedroom to have a window and a door that opens into a corridor.

Each resident should have a nurse call bell, a drapery for privacy, and a reading light. There should be room enough to maneuver a wheelchair.

Probably the best indication of the suitability of the home will be the residents themselves. Ask for their opinion of the home.

Do most of the residents seem alert? Are they involved in group activities? Are they well groomed? Make a checklist before you begin your visits to nursing homes, and use it for comparing purposes.

Bell offers PBX service additions

Illinois Bell has added a new member to the Dimension PBX family, has made some major changes in its Dimension PBX line and has developed a new Variable Term Payment Plan, according to Bernard F. Sergesketter, vice president-business marketing. Tariffs have been approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The new Dimension 600 PBX is a medium-sized system positioned between Illinois Bell's Dimension 400 and Dimension 2000 and is designed for business customers who need up to 900 lines. The newest Dimension PBX includes Electronic Tandem Switching (for communications between two or more locations), Energy Communications Service and several optional customer-participation features.

The enhancements will provide a wider availability of many communications features previously available only on the company's largest PBX systems. For example, the company said, the smaller-sized Dimension 400 PBX will be able to serve the general business needs of a broad spectrum of industries, helping them increase productivity and reduce operating costs.

"We've made several improvements, but the most exciting is feature package 15 because of the broad base of customers to which it appeals," said Sergesketter. "This feature package includes options for uniform call distribution, electronic custom telephone service and a cost control program," he said.

In addition, Illinois Bell now offers a new uninterruptible power service which provides full service backup for the Dimension PBX systems.

"This service is more than sufficient for 95 percent of all commercial power failures today and offers vital continuity when energy management is involved," Sergesketter said, adding: "This is an extremely important benefit in today's environment when a communications system breakdown is equivalent to a business breakdown."

Sergesketter said the consolidation of software features, combined with the range of systems now available, will provide greater efficiency, flexibility and customer control.

Under the Variable Term Payment plan, a customer has a choice of a month-to-month or 48-month plan. During the course of the contract, there will be no increase in rates. This plan was designed to meet customer needs to achieve predictable, stable rates throughout the life of the payment agreement, Sergesketter said.

ARREST MADISON MAN
Clair E. McCalister, 26, of 1837 Second St., Madison, was brought from the Madison Police Department to Granite City police headquarters last week on warrants citing failure to appear on charges of resisting arrest, obstructing a police officer and disorderly conduct.

Upward Bound will continue

A grant of $273,574 has been awarded by the U.S. Department of Education for continued support of the Upward Bound program at SIUE. The program is located at the East St. Louis Center and is designed to prepare minority high school students for careers in science, engineering and health fields.

Emil Jason, acting director of the center, said the curriculum includes biology, physics, chemistry, English, calculus, reading and computer science. "Students can pursue almost any field they want with this kind of academic background," he commented Friday. Upward Bound is in its fifth year and currently involves 660 high school students.

DISORDERLY CHARGE

Michael D. Flaugh, 17, of 2809 North St., was charged with disorderly conduct last week at police headquarters when he allegedly refused to cooperate and became abusive and belligerent during an investigation.

Striking Exception
BARTLESVILLE, Okla.—Despite the spreading interest in employees' health and physical fitness, a survey shows that among many companies only a fraction of workers takes advantage of exercise programs and physical fitness facilities.

A striking exception noted is at Phillips Petroleum, where 6,000 of 7,200 employees are part of the company's fitness and recreation program. Cost is only $13 a year for employees' family membership, which covers gym, swimming pool and bowling facilities; exercise rooms; softball fields and a seven-mile jogging trail. The program is 30 years old.

Pushing to Glory
BAYSIDE, N.Y.—Not all athletes experience big paydays such as fighters Sugar Ray Leonard and Roberto Duran. Most ply their trade without fanfare or money.

Russell Driesen, 14, recently set the pushup record of 112 at Nathaniel Hawthorne School here. He won the John F. Kennedy physical fitness award and got his name posted in the gym. "That's good enough for me," he said.

Champion
NORTH BERGEN, N.J.—When Manny Silverio, 23, left Cuba in a 1967 airlift, he only had the clothes on his back. Since, he has become one of the East's top collegiate hammer throwers, while at Manhattan College in the Bronx, N.Y. In May, he broke an 18-year-old Palmer Stadium record at the Princeton Invitational with a 202-foot heave. The sweatshirt Silverio wore in 1967, when he came to the U.S., had "Champion" written on it in Spanish.
